

Calculate the magnitude (in centimeters) and direction (in standard form) of the resultant vector for each diagram using the method of components. Use the 1 cm gridlines towards this end. A ruler and protractor are not needed for this exercise.

Calculate the magnitude (in centimeters) and direction (in standard form) of the resultant vector for each diagram using the method of components. Use the 1 cm gridlines towards this end. A ruler and protractor are not needed for this exercise.

